

A Message from Spirit the Seawolf

Greetings to all of the
Absolutely Incredible Kids of Anchorage,

When the Camp Fire leaders asked me to write a letter to all the kids of Anchorage, I felt truly honored.

I thought about all the kids I've met in my job as a professional mascot and how great you all are, and I had to smile.

Kids are full of enthusiasm and energy and potential. I can't imagine what life would be like without any kids around.

I want you all to know that this is a great time in our world. You have so many opportunities to learn and experience new things and choose what you want to do with your lives.

Each one of you is unique, with different talents and skills, and as you learn to recognize and develop those skills, with hard work and teamwork you can do amazing things.

I encourage you to look around you, at your homes and classrooms, at your community and even the world, and think about how you can make a difference.

You can do it! It may take time and patience, and it may not always be easy, but never forget you have the support of your parents, teachers, your leaders and your friends, and Seawolves everywhere.

Take advantage of every opportunity you have to learn. I spend lots of time with students and see how learning new things opens up the world to young people. I am excited to see all the great things you can and will do with each of your lives.

Remember you are each important and special, and you are all Absolutely Incredible Kids!

Your Friend,

Spirit the Seawolf
